About the Event

The 2026 Critical Minerals Summit, presented by the Utah Mining Association, in partnership with the University of Utah and regional national labs, will bring together leaders from across the mining and critical minerals industries for two days of discussion, collaboration, and connection.

The Summit will explore key issues and opportunities shaping the industry, with an emphasis on critical minerals, innovation, workforce, and the future of mining.

Audience & Reach

- Expected Attendance: 300+ industry professionals
- Audience: Mining and mineral companies, national laboratories, government leaders, suppliers, educators, workforce partners, and industry professionals
- Opportunities: Two days of programming, exhibits, networking, and industry collaboration

Why Sponsor?

Connect your organization with leaders across the mining and critical minerals industries. Gain valuable visibility while building relationships with industry, government, national laboratories, and partners across the supply chain.
